wanting to borrow money on real estate would do well to consult these gentlemen. For further particulars, read their announcement.

Messrs. A. M. Palmer and E. S. Howard, Hartford, and Rev. Eli Wesley, Hartford, Route 3, were granted license at Morgantown last week, during the Butler Circuit Court, to practice law. The examiners were Judge McKenzie Moss, Attorneys N. T. Howard, W. R. Gardner and G. V. Willis.

Messrs. J. H. Thomas, County Court Clerk Claude Blankenship and Fred Cooper, Hartford; John B. Renfrow, Narrows, and W. T. Keown, Fordsville, went to Frankfort Monday afternoon to appear before the State Board of Equalization to enter a protest and seek to have eliminated the raise recently put on Ohio county property.

A conference of district representatives and managers of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Co. will be held at the Henry Waterson Hotel in Louisville three days of this week, beginning tomorrow. Mr. John Bircher, the local manager for this company, has been invited and will attend. Mr. Bircher is making good here and well deserves the recognition which he is receiving from the company.

The following were among The Herald's recent callers, viz.: J. W. Russ, Beaver Dam, Route 4; W. W. Browder and O. T. O'Bannon, city; J. S. Moleyhorn, Hartford, Route 1; Thomas Williams, Hartford, Route 4; W. E. Johnson and son Roy Johnson, Paradise; E. Q. Cooper, McHenry; Dolan Wade, Beaver Dam, Route 2; Miss Lydia Ward, Hartford, Route 3; A. R. Burton, Hartford, Route 1, and W. E. Baker, Narrows 2.

During the storm last Tuesday night the roof was blown off of Mr. J. W. Ford's house on his farm just below Heflin, his barn was blown down, killing one mule and slightly injuring another, as well as destroying about $500 worth of timber. The next damage, so far as known, was the Washington schoolhouse, about five miles north of town. This building was blown from its foundation and the partly constructed addition was demolished. Two oil well derricks not far away were also blown down.

Mrs. M. A. Jarboe, who lived in Hartford many years ago, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Jarboe Benjamin, in New Haven, Conn., on Tuesday, May 4. Mrs. Jarboe was a sister of Capt. S. K. Cox, of Hartford, and Mrs. Jennie Moseley, of Bowling Green, and was 85 years old at the time of her death. She leaves two children, Alice and Harry, her husband having died many years ago. Her daughter Carrie was the first wife of Mr. E. P. Thomas, of Hartford, and died several years ago. Mr. Thomas received a letter from Mrs. Jarboe a few days ago, begun during her last hours, but finished by her daughter Alice after her death.

For Good Roads.

County Judge Jno. B. Wilson and County Attorney C. E. Smith went to Frankfort last Thursday in response to a request of Robert C. Terrel, State Highway Commissioner, concerning the betterment of the roads of Ohio county under the provisions of the State Aid laws passed at the last Legislature.

Mr. Grimes, of the State Highway Department, was here some days since and went over the roads proposed to be improved, in company with Judge Wilson, Road Engineer Benton and others.

Mr. Terrel favors pike roads wherever at all possible. It is not yet determined just when the work will be begun.

COMMENCEMENT OCCURS AT COLLEGE NEXT WEEK

Splendid Programs Arranged and Exercises Will Be Very Interesting.

The thirty-fifth annual commencement exercises of Hartford College begin next Sunday, May 16, with the Baccalaureate sermon at the Methodist church. This will be preached by Dr. F. D. Perkins, of Louisville, Secretary of the Baptist Educational Work of Kentucky.

On Monday afternoon the pupils of Misses Marks' and Pendleton's grades will give a play, "When Polly Was Queen of the May," on the school lawn at three o'clock.

On Monday evening, in the school auditorium, the pupils of Miss Margaret Nall's class will give a recital.

Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. the pupils of Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Thomas will present the play "Pyramus and Thisbe," and a Chimes drill, "Ting-a-Ling."

Wednesday evening, May 19, at the Opera House, the Juniors present a one-act comedy, "My Wife's Bonnet," and a comedy drama of three acts, "The Dream That Came True." Thursday evening, May 20, the Seniors present the Civil War drama, "The Thread of Destiny." Friday evening at the Methodist church will be held the commencement exercises of the Senior class, consisting of orations by Mr. Aaron Ross, class representative, and Miss Norine Harris Barnett, valedictorian, and the class address by Mr. D. Lee Fitzpatrick, of Richmond, Ind., subject, "Pluck vs. Luck."

No admission will be charged except for the High School plays at the opera house Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Tickets will be on sale at the Ohio County Drug Co. at 9 a. m. on Tuesday, May 18. Reserved seats, 35c; general admission 25c.

The Senior Class of 1915 is the largest in the history of the school, consisting of seven young men and fourteen young ladies. A splendid class spirit has prevailed and many fads and fancies indulged in. Various entertainments have been given in their honor and enjoyable class meetings been held. They use for the first time here the caps and gown in commencement exercises. This is an exceptionally strong class and the instructors are justly proud of them. The class roll is as follows:

Norine Harris Barnett, Garnett Combs, Ruth Combs, Mattie Sanderfur Duke, Edna Louis Elliott, Nancy Ellen Ford, Mollye Gorin Flener, Chiffie Cleo Felix, Howard E. Glenn, Otis Howard, Willis Carson Lyons, Maurine Catherine Martin, Helena Coster Miller, Elizabeth Moore, Raymond Nall, Lucille Pirtle, Wilbur Preston Rhoads, Aaron T. Ross, William Parke Taylor, Ona Mae Whittinghill, Margaret Lindsay Williamson.

Prepare For Advanced Standing In Music Before Going Away To School.

If you intend going away to school and studying music you need at least a few lessons to prepare you for the new fields of work you will find there. I have made a special study of piano for the past three years—two years at National Park Seminary, Washington, D. C., and this last year at the New England Conservatory, Boston, Mass. Here at the conservatory I am studying under the head of the Normal Department and am having special instruction in teaching. I can give you a good foundation in the best and most scientific methods as taught here at the conservatory and can fit you to enter as an advanced student rather than a beginner.

I shall teach piano and voice with the necessary Harmony and Solfeggio lessons in addition.

I shall gladly answer any questions in regard to lessons, if you are interested. MARY FELIX, 125 Hemenway St., Boston, Mass.

week's issue of The Herald. When arrested Hays had a considerable sum of money on his person, some of which was buffalo nickels, which it is said the murdered negro had a habit of collecting.

Hays was in jail here about 6 or 7 years ago on the charge of malicious wounding, but escaped and was never captured. Albert Key was the man he shot at and wounded. The examining trial of Hays on the assassination charge is set for today.

"Didn't Know It Was Loaded."

Last Saturday at Fordsville, this county, Charlie Gross, a white man, shot and instantly killed A. B. Robinson, a little negro boy about 7 or 8 years old. The weapon used was a shotgun and the whole top of the boy's head was blown away. Gross claims that the affair was an accident, that he didn't know the gun was loaded when he playfully pointed it at the negro boy and threatened to shoot if the latter did not get away from a certain window. Gross was brought to Hartford and lodged in jail to await his examining trial, which is set for next Friday. He is about 42 years old and a well known citizen of Fordsville.
